BUREAU OF MINES HIKES ESTIMATE FOR TEXAS OIL OUTPUT

PRACTICE OF SPECIAL FIELD ALLOWABLES DENOUNCED BY HUMBLE

AUSTIN, Nov. 19.—(P)—The federal bureau of mines today recommended that Texas produce 1,455,200 barrels of crude oil daily during December. This was an increase of 35,900 barrels above the recommendation for November.

The estimate of Texas' share in the national market, announced today at the monthly production hearing of the railroad commission. The daily allowable production Nov. 18 was 1,419,300 barrels, which had increased due to completions and adjustments in the basic allowable of 1,109,300 effective Nov. 1.

Other highlights of the hearing was a warning by Commissioner C. V. Terrell that continued drilling ultimately would lead to placing all wells on a marginal basis and a denunciation by the Humble Oil Company of giving special allowances to individual fields.

"I don't know what can be done about drilling," Terrell said, "but it will demand the best thought of the industry."

C. V. Cottingham, chief petroleum engineer for the commission, announced that the commission pressure in the East Texas field declined 4.65 pounds per square inch in the last 30 days, or .34 pound for each 1,000,000 barrels of oil produced.

The criticism of the Humble Company, presented by Hines Baker of Houston, was directed especially at an order of the commission Nov. 18 increasing the allowable for the Humble company from 1,000,000 to 1,100,000 barrels.

Baker said the trend of special allowances was toward destroying the balance of allocations between the fields.

ASK CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT REVIVE AAA CROP CONTROL

NEW MEXICO FARMERS OFFER RESOLUTION BEFORE DROUGHT COMMITTEE

DALHART, Nov. 19.—(P)—A constitutional amendment to make possible revival of the original AAA crop control program was urged by New Mexico farmers today in resolutions presented to the President's Great Plains drought committee.

Claude Gamble, a Clovis farmer, told the committee "New Mexicans feel that no program without production control will give necessary protection for agriculture."

The New Mexico resolution urged a petition for rehearing of the old AAA case before the United States supreme court.

"If this rehearing is refused," the resolution said, "it is recommended that a constitutional amendment be submitted which will permit congress to formulate a farm program based on the principals of the old triple A, including all crops that produce a surplus for two consecutive years."

The group also asked continuation of present soil and moisture conservation practices with provisions in a new soil program to withhold seed loans or AAA benefits from farmers who do not make "an adequate effort to curb erosion."

The Texas extension service also presented a set of recommendations.

BANNER DIVIDEND WEEK CONTINUES TO POUR OUT MILLIONS

HALF BILLION DOLLAR MARK IN YEAR-END DISBURSEMENTS PASSED

By The Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—(P)—A banner dividend week rolled up a total today of about $200,000,000 in payments by nearly 100 corporations in the biggest downpour of dollars Wall Street has seen in years.

Headed by $4,337,000 payment by the Anaconda Copper Mining Co; twenty more announcements, mostly from smaller companies, sent aggregate disbursements scheduled for the year-end by about 155 companies above the $500,000,000 mark.

Anaconda moved to pay 25 cents a share Dec. 21 to its 110,000 shareholders in addition to the regular quarterly payment of like amount. Magma Copper chimed in with a dividend of $1.

Many remaining directors' meetings on the November calendar were expected to brook the total substantially. Corporations have hastened to distribute increased 1936 profits among millions of shareholders before the close of the year to avoid the federal surtax upon undivided profits as well as observe a Christmas tradition for good years.

As wage increases continued, financial experts figured on basis of tabulations of autumn announcements that around $150-

GENERAL POSTOFFICE PARTIALLY WRECKED IN THURSDAY ATTACK

GIANT EXPLOSIVE MISSILES WERE DROPPED OVER BE-LEAGUERED CAPITAL

MADRID, Nov. 19.—(P)—A fascist bomb fell at the main entrance of the Madrid general postoffice today, killing many employees and partly wrecking the building.

All service was instantly suspended.

Shrapnel sprayed the structure, striking a number of persons. The bomb fell shortly after 3:45 p. m.

It was the newest attack in the relentless aerial "punishment" which has spread untold death and damage through Madrid.

An unconfirmed report said a second bomb had fallen inside the magnificent building.

The ornate facade was badly damaged. Windows and window supports were smashed.

The force of the explosion lifted two street cars in Cibeles Square near the postoffice from the rails.

Screaming, struggling workers jamming the cars were ridden by the hail of shrapnel.

Most of them were reported killed.

A second bomb wrecked the beautiful palace of the Marquis of Linares in the opposite corner of the square from the postoffice.

Three Children Burned To Death Early Thursday

FRANKFORT, Ky., Nov. 19.—(P)—Trapped on the second floor of a fire-swept house, three children burned to death early today.

Mrs. January Sheets and her daughter, Allie, 12, suffered serious burns in a futile effort to rescue the children.

The victims were John Sheets, 11, and two cousins, Ralph Henry, six, and his sister, Ruby, 8.

January Sheets escaped with minor burns.

Former Minister Granted Pardon By Alfred Today

AUSTIN, Nov. 19.—(P)—Governor Alfred announced today he granted general parole to William D. Welburn, Jr., of San Antonio, former minister serving a seven-year sentence for perjury.

The governor said Welburn had served about a year of his sentence, had been a model prisoner, had asked no favors during his imprisonment and apparently had been sufficiently punished.

Edward Clark, the governor's secretary, also said he felt the sentence exceeded the average usually given for perjury.

Welburn at one time was pastor of the Government Hill Methodist church in San Antonio. The conviction grew out of his testimony in a divorce suit by Mrs. Winet Long Welburn.

Mrs. Welburn claimed he married her and was the father of her child, which Welburn denied. A jury granted her a divorce and subsequently he was tried for perjury.

The governor's office announced.

MUSSOLINI ORDERS AIR AND NAVY WORK BE GREATLY SPEEDED

RECOGNITION OF SPANISH INSURGENTS FEARED BRING COMPLICATIONS

By ANDRUE BERDING
ROME, Nov. 19.—(P)—Fascist Italy, mindful of possible European complications from recognition of the Spanish insurgent government, ordered construction of airplanes and warships speeded up today.

"The military preparation of Italy in this special moment must be accelerated, above all in the aerial and naval fields," Premier Mussolini and the fascist grand council decided.

The phrase "in this special moment" referred particularly to the Spanish situation, political circles said.

At the same time, the Stefani (Italian) news agency published a report Austria and Hungary shortly will follow Germany and Italy's example in recognizing Gen. Francisco Franco's fascist Spanish regime.

The order to strengthen Italian aerial and naval forces was issued in a special communique after the council meeting.

Count Galeazzo Ciano, Italian foreign minister, named Filippo De Ciutiis, former chancellor of the embassy at Madrid, charge d'affaires accredited to the Franco government.

De Ciutiis is now at Alicante, living aboard an Italian warship in the harbor.

At the same time Ciano re-

Eden's Statement On Spain Causes Mild Sensation

LONDON, Nov. 19.—(P)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden threw the house of commons into brief tumult today by declaring "some other governments were more to blame for Spanish intervention than Italy and Germany."

Members said they presumed he referred especially to Soviet Russia.

Eden's statement came after authoritative sources had thrown out strong hints Great Britain would not tolerate any "foolishness" from Spanish insurgents which might interfere with British Mediterranean shipping. The hints referred to General Francisco Franco's threat to blockade Barcelona, Mediterranean port held by Spanish government supporters.

The foreign secretary said he would get specific assurances from Germany and Italy that "their recognition of the insurgent regime did not mean they were going to hold themselves free to supply arms" to Franco.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 19.—(P)—A mother went shopping for baby clothes and returned with the baby and its layette.

LOCAL MERCHANTS EXPECT INCREASE HOLIDAY BUSINESS

DOUBLE SUPPLIES IN ANTICIPATION OF GROWING DEMAND THIS SEASON

A cross-section survey of Corsicana business establishments made Thursday morning indicated that merchants of this city in many lines are preparing for one of the largest holiday seasons in almost a decade. Plans have been under way for several weeks on a "last lap" drive to be started with a big street parade on December 12.

The summary of the survey findings is that Corsicana merchants have in a majority of cases doubled their supplies of holiday goods with a larger portion of the items in the more expensive brackets.

The department store division indicated that stocks were doubled in holiday lines, with greater values offered at lower prices, and also a larger assortment of higher priced gifts. One merchant stated that he expected his December business to show a gain in excess of 60 per cent over 1935, when he broke records for several years.

In drugstore lines, more emphasis is being placed on more expensive merchandise, according to the survey, with the standard gift lines of last year appearing at the lowest prices in several years. One dealer said that he was expecting the greatest business since 1928.

Hardware dealers have also ordered much larger stocks than usual with a much larger proportion of better grade products, and are anticipating greatly increased demand and sales.

Treasury Looks For Income Taxes From Dividends

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—(P)—The recent wave of dividend declarations and wage increases is being scanned by treasury experts attempting to forecast tax revenues.

Officials said revised estimates of tax receipts for this fiscal year now are being made for inclusion in President Roosevelt's budget message to congress, and that it was possible these might be lifted upward by the present business surge.

They added, however, no material changes in tax rates were being considered, because these took into consideration the possibility of heavy dividend and wage outlays by corporations faced with new levies on undistributed profits.

With special and regular dividend declarations rolling toward the $500,000,000 mark and with annual wage increases totaling upward of $125,000,000 announced in recent weeks, officials centered attention on prospective income tax receipts.

So they run.

That perennial sage, Mr. Postmaster, is being depended on by the government to explain the security act pensions to all comers in the weeks ahead. The security office is establishing 56 regional offices to co-operate.

Wide publicity has been given to how the pensions will be computed, the taxes levied and the types of employment not covered by the law. But a thousand and one questions of detail and administration are coming up.

Will a worker get back as much as he is taxed?

What if he works until 75 and dies without collecting anything?

There is the matter of eligibility. Does the exclusion of farm help and housemaids mean none of them will ever receive pensions?

"Not at all," says the security board. "People make frequent changes in their occupations. Relatively few spend their lives in one type of work. Many now excluded may before 65 shift to other employment and become eligible."

Law Mandatory.

The law is mandatory for the affected employment. There are no options. Whether a man has an independent income or is receiving a stipend from a private pension plan will make no difference when the checks start going to those qualified in 1942. No tests of need, like those for relief, are laid down.

If Brutus Bolt, the grocery clerk, fulfills some stipulations but not all, he will be entitled at 65 to 3 1-2 per cent of the

REVENUE FROM LEGAL LIQUOR SALES CONTRIBUTE LARGELY TO PAYMENT OF OLD AGE PENSIONS

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the third of a series of news items contained in the omnibus bill passed by the Texas legislature at its special session.

HARRELL E. LEE
AUSTIN, Nov. 19.—(P)—One of the principal arguments for repeal of Texas prohibition was that the state thereby would be able to derive tax benefits from liquor sales which could not be halted in many sections.

Beer of 3.2 per cent alcohol by volume or less became legal in 1933. Stronger ale wines and hard liquors were legalized last year. This new source of revenue is contributing substantially to the state's running expenses.

The legislature at its recent session boosted the tax on whiskey and other hard liquors and on still wines, effective November 30. The levy on beers was not changed.

The new tax on hard liquors will be 12 cents a pint, compared to the present ten cents.

Higher Rate In Texas.
C. R. Miller state liquor administrator, said the new law would be considerably higher than those in the neighboring states of Arkansas and Louisiana.

A defeated house proposal to boost the rate to $1.20 may be advanced again at the regular session opening in January. There also may be another effort to restore the beer tax to its former $1.50 per barrel, 26 cents higher than the present levy. The chief argument against heavy taxes on beer and light wines is that it encourages persons to buy strong instead of mild drinks.

The tax on still wines containing less than 14 per cent alcohol was increased from two to ten cents a gallon. That on like wines of between 14 and 24 per cent was boosted from five to 20 cents per gallon.

Revenue Estimated at $6,500,000.
Miller estimated revenues under

Four Men Killed By Machine Bast In Arkansas Mine

WALDRON, Ark., Nov. 19.—(P)—A cutting machine explosion in the No. 1 mine of the Bates Coal Mining company at Bates killed four men and seriously injured a fifth today.

The dead: JOHN DELAP, Howe, Okla. BILL GROSSKY, Bates, Ark. JOE TAYLOR, Heavener, Okla. TOM ELLIS, Bates.

John Winters, Bates, was taken to a Port Smith hospital where it was reported he was not expected to live.

The explosion occurred at 6:15 a. m., a mile and a half inside the mine. Not until two hours later did a rescue crew, fighting black damp, reach the men.

The blast came when the cutting machine struck a gas pocket and short circuited. Rescue workers said they had difficulty in removing the bodies and could not estimate damage to the mine.

The mine resumed operations this year after five years of inactivity.

The day crew of approximately 100 men had not reported for work.

The mine was occupied only by the night cutting machine crew of five. They were cutting ore to prepare work for the day miners.

The mine is located five miles from the Oklahoma line and ten miles from Heavener, Okla.

The manager could not be reached for a statement.

Market Demand Production Held Farm Solution

PARIS, Nov. 19.—(P)—C. A. Cobb, director of the AAA's southern region, told the southwest cotton conference here today solution of the farm problem depended upon stabilization of farm income.

Speaking to farmers, ginners, cottonseed crushers and county agents from Northwest Texas, Southeast Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana, Cobb said production must be adjusted to market demand.

Cobb discussed the relation of co-operative marketing with the government farm program. He said he believed Texas farmers had already shown their willingness to co-operate with the government and he expected the condition to continue.

The AAA official urged better cotton as a means of overcoming low prices and talked of the importance of building up workout soils through crop rotation.

He said intelligent production and merchandising were of equal importance in meeting the farmer's problem.

Body of Pretty Young Woman Is Found In Road

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 19.—(P)—The body of a beautiful panama young woman, found on the Fredericksburg road near the city limits early today, was identified as Miss Clara Marsh, 27, of Segon, by Mrs. Charlotte Kampff, a Segon rooming house operator.

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 19.—(P)—A pretty sandy-haired woman, about 26 years old, was found dead on the back of the head, a broken left shoulder and internal injuries, according to officers. No blood, however, was found where the body lay.

The body was found by L. D. Williams of Coliad, who was driving toward the city. He said the body was lying lengthwise in the road and that his car passed over the body without touching it.

He went to a nearby telephone and notified the sheriff's office. Captain J. W. Bryant of the county highway patrol was dispatched to the scene along with Justice of the Peace O. L. Wiley, who ordered the body turned over to a local undertaking company.

NAVARRO COUNTY TREASURY WARRANT FOR $2.50 IS DATED 1862

Mrs. A. H. Piper has recently returned from Christoval, Tom Green county, where her brother, Frank C. Van Horn, pioneer Corsicana publisher, now resides.

Mrs. Piper exhibited a number of interesting documents, secured from her brother, which recall early day happenings in Corsicana and Navarro county.

A Navarro county treasury warrant dated 1862, for $2.50 was signed by A. Duren and L. H. Kerr. A Confederate tax receipt for $104.50 was dated 1864, while another piece of script dated 1862 called for payment of $1.00 by the treasurer of Freestone county.

A tax receipt dated 1876 in the amount of $55.35 was signed by E. E. Dunn, sheriff, by Marian Martin.

Mrs. Piper also had stock certificates issued to her father, R. A. Van Horn, in the Navarro County Joint Club with a $50.00 value signed by I. B. Taylor, secretary and dated October 1, 1872.

The official document of the I. O. O. F. Lodge naming R. A. Van Horn as district deputy grand patriarch, district No. 17, composed of Navarro and Freestone counties, dated May 21, 1872, will be of interest to local members of the order. An L. O. O. F. sick and burial benefit certificate, signed by W. J. W. Kerr dated 1874, was also contained in the collection. There were also two five cent Confederate stamps bearing the picture of Jefferson Davis and Confederate bills of various denominations. A check on the Garitty and Huey Bank was dated 1880.

Mrs. Piper also had in her possession a letter written by her father to her mother dated Sept. 20, 1866.

The collection is of unusual interest and the names contained on the various documents are well known in Corsicana and Navarro county.

TURKEY GROWERS SURRENDER; SELL BIRDS AT 12 CENTS

CUERO, Nov. 18.—(P)—The surrender of South Texas growers to what many of them apparently concede to be an unbeatatable price situation appeared as thousands of birds were sold on a 12-cent market today.

Growers had flatly withheld their turkeys from Thanksgiving sale because of this price, which they declared was unprofitable, but many of them have decided now to make the best of it and take what they can get.

Local buyers reported receipts today would top the Tuesday mark of approximately 10,000 birds here. Immediately after closing of the Thanksgiving market (on which birds are shipped to Northern and Eastern dealers) the price fell to 11 cents but has since advanced again to 12 cents and started the selling movement.

A record day was reported at all leading plants in the Cuero area, with Gonzales county farmers joining in the marketing break.

Turkeys being received here were said to be of the best quality marketed in this section in years.

UNITED CHARITIES HAS BEEN KEPT VERY BUSY RECENT WEEKS

At the November meeting of the United Charities board of directors Thursday morning, Miss Augusta Helm, secretary, reported her office had been extremely busy in recent weeks, and that much good had been accomplished. Her report was from October 10 to Nov. 19.

Miss Helm reported 76 families had applied to her office for help; that clothing was given 30 families; wood to four; bedding to 3; school supplies to seven; groceries to 25. A wheel chair was loaned to one person.

She said much work was done for families where illness was present, and fire had rendered them helpless. During the month, two persons were kept on a strict diet, and two other persons were given anti-toxin. Miss Helm expressed her deepest appreciation to a Corsicana trained nurse who volunteered her services and gave much time, attention and energy to one case of typhoid fever and another person that had been burned.

In addition to this direct assistance given, Miss Helm reported much good had been accomplished for numerous advisory cases, where problems of various kinds had been worked out.

She also reported her office had furnished many names of needy families for individuals and groups to furnish Thanksgiving dinners, and that she still has a lengthy list of such names.

Among the articles given were mattresses, bedding, stoves, tables, chairs, medicine and wood.

FAY WEBB, VALLEE'S "DREAM GIRL" WIFE, DIED LAST NIGHT

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Nov. 19.—(P)—Fay Webb, divorced "dream girl" wife of Rudy Vallee, is dead at the age of 29.

She lay in a mortuary today in this city of her birth while word of the funeral arrangements was awaited from her father, Police Captain Clarence E. Webb.

Vallee, who laid down his baton in a New York night club when he heard of her death from post-operative complications, was reported uncertain whether he would fly here to attend the services.

The end came at 8:40 o'clock last night after the brunette actress had lain in a coma 48 hours. She was wasted by two years of ill health. Peritonitis had set in following an abdominal operation last Friday.

His daughter will be buried beside her mother in a Santa Monica cemetery, Webb said.

Corn Prices Are At Highest Point Since September

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—(P)—Corn prices, continuing recent advances, jumped about two cents a bushel today, carrying December corn to its highest point since September. The noon quotation was $1.07 a bushel.

Record breaking prices were scored also by wheat, oats and rye with December wheat $1.18 1-2. The strength of corn was sufficient to weather several waves of profit taking sales.

Part of the buying was attributed to strong advances in securities, before the grain market opened.

PRISONER IN CHAINS, WHOSE POWER COULD NOT BE CURBED *

One of History's Greatest Men Spent Closing Years In Prison, And Died By Sword, But Was Potent to the End---A Glimpse of The Appian Way.

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS

Mussolini has wrought one wonder, the reclamation of the Pontine Marshes and the restoration of the Appian Way. A few years ago, when Mrs. Ellis and I set out to cover all Bible lands, in order to write our book, we met our first obstacle when we proposed to travel the entire length of the Appian Way, as Paul had done. No travel agency in Rome could help us; the trip was not one to be made. Aside from the immemorial malaria, there was the menace of bandits. We could find no chauffeur who had ever been over the route. Of course, we made the trip, along the route crowded with memories of classical history and made sacred by the footsteps of the Apostle Paul who had traversed it in chains. Today, the Appian Way is safe, smiling and swarming.

Despite all the caesars and ancient poets and historians who once journeyed over this historic road between Rome and Naples, its association in the world's thought is with a little Jew, whose clanking fetters linked him a Roman soldier. The old road has seen many triumphs, but none to match that of this Christian conqueror, whose only ovation was from little companies of fellow disciples, who met him en route, came out in a copulation from Rome as far as the Market of Appius and the Three Taverns.

An Ambassador In Chains.
This great figure, Paul of Tarsus, is never more appealing than as we see him a prisoner in chains. He had been mobbed in many cities, and finally in Jerusalem. Falsely arrested, he had exercised his rights as a Roman citizen, and had appealed to Caesar. He had long desired to preach in Rome, the world's capital; but had not foreseen the strange Providence that would conduct him there as a captive safeguarded by the imperial eagles. He was God's ambassador, and Rome was used to give him convey.

Adventures of a thrilling sort—the story as a story should not be missed attended the journey. Cities and islands which have figured in recent new dispatches concerning the Italians and the British in the Mediterranean are part of the tale; words cannot convey the thrills that were mine as I visited them all. Paul's figure dominated the events, as at the shipwreck upon the shores of Malta.

He Got Along With Folks.

This big-southern in nothing more than in the way he got along with folks. He made friends of persons of low degree and high; a slave who was his friend, figures prominently in next lesson: the Roman centurion Julius appears in today's story. Doubtless it was owing to the friendliness of this centurion that Paul was granted many favors, and permitted to dwell in his own hired house, after Rome was reached. In the delegation that came down the Appian Way to meet him were members of Caesar's household, and lowly workmen.

Herein dwells a profound and urgent truth for the times. Some persons are today busily trying to make out that Christianity is a class religion, for the top for the bottom. It is neither, as Paul made plain by example and by his writings. There is no obligation more pressing at the present time than that of being friendly with all sorts of people. Class consciousness is one of our most imminent and ominous perils. And it is unChristian. When one is our Master, even Christ, then all we are brethren. Christian solidarity, which is the basis of social and political and economic and racial lines, is our pressing need. Every church should be, in sincere fellowship, a cross section of the entire community. Class cleavage is the trademark of genuine Christianity. To cultivate and to strengthen this real unity is a task for the times.

St. Paul's Hymn.

Within the heart of this great hero-adventurer-ambassador—tent-maker, Paul, burned one ever-growing flame. As it had guided his earlier years, so it illuminated his final activities. That was his passion for Jesus Christ. "For to me to live is Christ," he cried. Nothing else mattered—not scourings, stormings, mobbing, shipwreck, hunger, thirst, heat, cold or prisons—but only his own experience of Christ and his service for Him.

St. Patrick of Ireland, shared the same sentiment, as revealed in the lines written by him, back in the fifth century:—

"Christ be with me, Christ within me,
Christ behind me, Christ before me,
Christ beside me, Christ to win me,
Christ to comfort and restore me;
Christ beneath me, Christ above me,
Christ in quiet, Christ in danger,
Christ in hearts of all that love me,
Christ in mouth of friend and stranger."

In A Pullman Smoker.
We shall miss a major meaning of this great story of Paul's last days if it does not give a stronger grip upon the truth that circumstances matter less than spirit. As Milton wrote:—

"The mind is its own place, and in itself
Can make a heaven of hell, a hell of heaven."

One day I was riding in a Pullman smoking compartment, where a group of chance-met travellers were discussing the present conditions. The talk was summed up in the quiet observation of a hitherto silent business man: "After all, it is only what goes on in a man's own head that matters." We all felt that he had spoken the final word. As has been said, "Man is one world, and hath another to attend him."

Paul's passion motivated his conduct at Rome. Nobody in that great city, so strangely crowded with splendor and human misery, ever thought such a thing; but the truth is that Paul from his prison house was wielding a

SCHUMANN-HEINK, GREAT ARTIST AND GREAT WOMAN, DIES

SIMPLE FUNERAL SERVICES PLANNED FOR WORLD-FAMOUS DIVA

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Nov. 18.—(AP)—Madame Ernestine Schumann-Heink belonged to the immortality of song today.

A world that loved a great artist and a great woman paid the 75-year-old diva tribute in death. But at the quiet, hillside home above Hollywood where she passed away last night, her children arranged a simple, private funeral to meet one of her last requests.

Death came peacefully. At 3 p. m. yesterday, weakened by a severe chronic anemia despite a series of blood transfusions, the famous contralto lapsed into a coma.

As her heart beat its last at 7:21 p. m., three sons and a daughter stood weeping in her room. They were Ferdinand Schumann, motion picture actor; Henry Schumann-Heink, film technician; George W. Schumann, his mother's business manager, and Mrs. Marie Fox, of San Diego.

Her sons served on both sides in the world war. August, with the German forces, was killed in action. Another son, Hans, who was with the American army, died after the war.

The ailment which caused Madame Schumann-Heink's death became grave six months ago, halting her on the threshold of a film career which Producer Jesse Lasky predicted would make her an outstanding star.

Lasky Gave Her First Role
It was Lasky who gave her a bit in her first movie, "Here's to Romance," and her characterization was so favorably received upon the picture's release last year that Lasky and a rival concern raced across country to Chicago to sign her to a contract. The rival won.

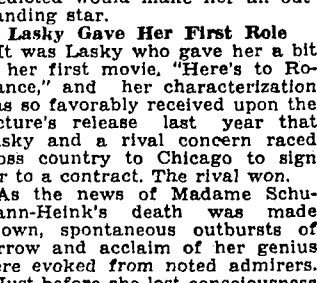

As the news of Madame Schumann-Heink's death was made known, spontaneous outbursts of sorrow and acclaim of her genius were heard from noted admirers.

Just before she lost consciousness yesterday her eyes filled with tears as she read an unsigned telegram—One of hundreds which arrived at her home during the day—and murmured, "God bless him," of the sender.

The telegram read: "Just a San Francisco urchin who heard you sing at Lotta's Fountain years ago sends his love and wants you to get well."

HOME-BUILDING

The construction of new homes, of which there is an accumulated deficit of millions since the depression, still lags behind most other countries.

England, with little more than one-third of our population, built 324,000 new dwellings last year while we built only 55,000. Sweden, with only 8,000,000 people, built nearly as many as we did. Both of those countries have been pushing construction, publicly and privately, for several years.

One reason England has made more progress than we have lately in providing better housing for her people is that taxes on homes there, as on the Continent, are usually only half as high as in American cities. We discourage new home-building by too heavy taxation.

BULL PENS FOR AUTOS.

There may be something in the name of Wisdom, a Montana town in which lives Ferd K. Gillam, a railroad man turned rancher. Gillam has been applying his ranching knowledge to the problem of keeping automobile drivers from getting themselves killed at railroad crossings. He would provide bullpens for them at the crossings, operated mechanically.

As a train approached a crossing, it would close an electric switch which would swing a heavy gate across the roadway, barring access to the tracks, and forcing the approaching motorist to turn into an enclosure on the right and wait there until the passing train automatically opened the gate again and let him cross.

The only obvious objection to the plan is that it looks rather expensive. It would be much simpler if the drivers would automatically control themselves. And perhaps they will, in time. We notice that cows and chickens—those that survive, and their offspring—are learning to stop, look and listen for autos.

ADVICE TO JAPS

"Why should the Japanese farmer remain in the United States where he is not wanted?" says Yosuke Matsuoka, Japanese business man of a hundred big enterprises, in a newspaper interview. "Let him come to Manchoukuo. Here he will find opportunity and welcome."

"There is a great future in northern Manchoukuo, in spite of its cold winters. Here we hope to induce some of the best Japanese farmers in the United States to come and make their homes. In a way, the anti-Japanese feeling in America may prove a blessing after all. Japanese in your country have learned a great deal about farming. We are thankful for those lessons."

It is an interesting suggestion. It may be good advice for many of the Japanese immigrants in our western states and at the same time good policy for Japan. It would help to solve the only really serious problems that have arisen between Japan and our country. Americans and Japanese like each other, on the whole, but do not get along well as close neighbors and economic competitors.

"It's sad to think that almost no conversion's made by radio," sinks a column contributor. Still it's grand for reporting political camp meetings.

Let's see. How many days till Thanksgiving?

JUST FOLKS

(Copyright, 1935, Edgar A. Guest.)

I TRY A BIT OF PERSIFLAGE.
"My dear," said I, and well employed
The gravest tones that I possess.
"I've never been so much annoyed."
It spoiled my whole day's happiness.
I'm sure my cheeks were flaming red—
By that my secret rage was shown.
I met a man and on his head
He had a hat just like my own!
"You know that one I choose with care.
The gray fedora, crown and brim.
I met a man—and I declare,
I stood and looked agape at him!
I never was so mortified
To gaze at him and know that we
Were walking, almost side by side
In hats alike as they can be!"
"Yet there it was as plain as day!
A little band or ribbon black,
Stitched on the very self-same way.
The brim kept upwards at the back.
I wondered what the passers-by
Would think so strange a sight
To see
"I paid five bucks for mine," said I.
"Five bucks is what I paid," said he.
"Such nonsense home your father brings."
Said she to Janet, near at hand,
"How women feel about such things.
The men will never understand."

BURBONS BACK

It has been customary to speak of the counter-revolutionary rebels in Spain, now rapidly winning control of the country, as Fascists, because they have opposed a government group composed largely of Communists. But perhaps neither term is correct. The revolutionary government, now being ousted after five years' tenure, tried until lately to keep the most radical elements under control, and called itself Republican and Liberal. The counter-revolutionary party now taking over, led by General Franco, insists that it is not an imitation of Italian or German Fascism. And it may prove to be right.

A more fitting term might be Bourbon. The royal family headed by Alfonso, who was ousted by the recent revolution, represents the last stand of literal Bourbonism in Europe. Perhaps Alfonso himself will not be, as he has been called, "the last of the Bourbons." Not he, but his line may return to Madrid.

Such a development is prophesied by the British-born Victoria, former Queen of Spain, who has been in this country lately visiting her oldest son, ill in a New York hospital. On the eve of her departure a few days ago, she declared that her younger son Don Juan, Prince of the Asturias, will be placed on the Spanish throne. It might happen. It would be a striking reversal of the democratic trend in Spain. It would be a shock to what is left of European democracy, now shrunk to the western fringe of the continent. Most of Europe really seems to be going Bourbon, in the sense of reactionary; but the other Bourbons are mostly upstart commoners turned dictators.

MONEY MAGIC FAILS.

The interesting fiscal system adopted by the Canadian province of Alberta doesn't seem to be working. The "Social Credit" government has no credit. Lacking funds to pay the principal of a $1,250,000 bond issue due Nov. 2, it was unable to borrow from the federal government or the Bank of Canada, or anybody else, and so had to default.

It should have been a simple matter to provide the money for such requirements through the plan by which Premier Aberhart gained office. The province was to print dollar bills not backed by gold or collateral, which would gain their face value in the process of circulation by having postage stamps pasted on them. When the stamps totaled a dollar's worth, the bills would be redeemed with real dollars.

Money isn't quite so simple as that, in spite of the everlasting explanations of social creditors, greenbackers, Coughlinites and so on. It value may come largely from hocus-pocus, but to be effective it must be a brand of magic sanctified by age and tradition. New brands of magic don't work so well.

SPAIN'S WAR

—By Clive Weed

ROYAL SLUMMING

King Edward, possibly to create a diversion in the ranks of British subjects grieving over his unconventional romance, has announced that he will visit the "distressed areas" of southern Wales. There is much poverty and wretchedness in that area. Its chief industry is coal mining, and coal is even a more serious problem in England than in the United States—so serious that many statesmen are suggesting government purchase and operation of the mines.

This tour need not be regarded as a mere gesture. Edward has always shown a deep, sympathetic concern for the lot of the poor, and has poked his nose into many a forlorn village and home where his scandalized elders and guardians shuddered to see him going. It is one of the reasons for his extreme popularity with the common people.

There is another area in which his subjects would like to see the King dispensing a little cheer. The greatest distress in England just now is among the eligible daughters of the British nobility. If they could only get a break!

LUCK AND THRIFT

"I know how to spend $10 but not $1,000," said a young woman who had just won the latter sum as prize in a treasure hunt. "I guess I'll just put the money in the bank until I can think straight."

It is a sensible plan. She doubtless could spend $1,000 that she had earned and saved over a period of time, with travel or study or new car in mind. But spending $1,000 that has dropped into your purse suddenly and unexpectedly is quite different. The winner who recognizes the problem is likely to spend the winnings to good advantage.

The country has been so thoroughly saved and lost that for a few weeks we might all just as well settle down and attend to our own affairs.

The President radiates so much benevolence since the election that people may soon be calling him "Pa-pa."

And now, with politics put where it belongs, football and bridge will have a fair chance again.

Don't tell anybody, but there's isn't any authority in the Constitution for political parties.

Continue Campaign For Salvation Army Funds While Longer

Mrs. Phil T. Rainey, state envoy of the Salvation Army, in charge of the Corsicana drive for $5,000, announced Tuesday more than $2,000 had been received in cash and pledges, and that she was continuing her work for a few more days. She said the drive this year is ahead of the same time last year.

Several of the larger contributions have not yet been received, Mrs. Rainey said, but are expected within the near future.

Montfort Youth Has Enlisted In Army; Sent to El Paso

James Cecil Bobo, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Bobo, Route 5, Corsicana, was enlisted in the United States army Nov. 17, and was assigned to the cavalry, unassigned, Fort Bliss, El Paso, Texas. Additional vacancies still exist. Applicants should write or call on Major Sidney J. Cutter at the Federal Building in Dallas.

Mr. Bobo stated that his enlistment was a direct result of reading about the enlistment of Mr. Tennyson that was published in the Daily Sun.

Now Ease Neuritis Pains Fast
Bayer Tablets Dissolve Almost Instantly
In 2 seconds by stop watch, a genuine BAYER Aspirin tablet starts to disintegrate and go to work. Drop a Bayer Aspirin tablet into a glass of water. By the time it hits the bottom of the glass it is disintegrating. What happens in this case happens in your stomach.

For Amazingly Quick Relief Get Genuine Bayer Aspirin

If you suffer from pains of neuritis what you want is quick relief.

Genuine Bayer Aspirin tablets give quick relief, for one reason, because they dissolve or disintegrate almost instantly they touch moisture. (Note illustration above.)

Hence—when you take a real Bayer Aspirin tablet it starts to dissolve almost as quickly as you swallow it. And thus is ready to start working almost instantly....

That's why millions never ask for aspirin by the name aspirin alone when they buy, but always say "BAYER ASPIRIN" and see that they get it.

Try it. You'll say it's marvelous.

AMERICAN FARMERS SHOW DISPOSITION TO GET OUT OF DEBT

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Federal Land Bank Commissioner A. S. Goss told the 70th annual convention of the National Grange today, there was a determination on the part of thousands of American farmers to get out of debt.

"I believe the national farm organizations could render a real service to agriculture if they would put on an educational campaign on the advantages of getting out of debt," he said. "I wish every farmer could have seen what happened to the debt burdened farmer during the depression as compared to the debt free farmer."

Termining adequate farm credit "as necessary to successful farming as good transportation," Goss asserted that agriculture needed credit not based upon the amount of security the borrower could put up, but upon his ability to repay.

Explaining the activities of the federal land banks, the farm credit administration, and farm credit associations, Goss told the Grange the Federal Land Bank and the land bank commissioner had nearly $3,000,000,000 outstanding in loans—approximately 40 per cent of the farm debt of America.

He cautioned the grangers against gaining the impression that farm credit would be available to borrowers who "make no effort to pay what they owe."

"Congress has insisted that all who can pay must pay," he said.

CELEBRATION GREAT DEMOCRATIC VICTORY PLANNED FOR MONDAY

Eyes of the nation will be focused upon Texas Monday, November 23, when Victory Jubilee Day is celebrated at the Texas Centennial Exposition in Dallas. Proclaimed by Governor James V. Allred, the event is expected to rally 150,000 Texans in observance of the greatest political triumph in more than 100 years of United States history.

Uniqueness of the demonstration has prompted Myron G. Blalock, Marshall; Roy Miller, Corpus Christi; Karl Crowley, Washington, D. C.; Harold H. Young, Dallas, and Raymond E. Buck, Fort Worth, members of the executive committee, to extend invitations to men of national prominence who will grace the occasion.

On the evening of November 23rd, a banquet will be tendered to and in honor of the Texas congressional delegation (both senators and representatives) by the democratic national campaign campaign committee of Texas, of which Hon. Sam Rayburn and Hon. Myron G. Blalock are co-chairmen and Honorable Roy Miller is director.

Endorsement of the November 23rd celebration was voiced by Jesse H. Jones, chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, when plans were first informally discussed at a luncheon tendered him by the Federal Centennial Commission at the Adolphus Hotel in Dallas, October 20.

WHAT'S AHEAD FOR ROOSEVELT?

A Question-And-Answer Survey As Second Term Nears

WASHINGTON (AP)—Here are concise answers to many of the questions being asked as President Roosevelt, overwhelmingly re-elected, plans the course of his second administration:

Q. When will President Roosevelt take office? (Why change the date?)

A. On January 20, 1937. The 20th or "lame duck" amendment to the constitution changed the inauguration of the President from the traditional March 4th date.

Inauguration comes in heart of winter

Q. What is the number of the new congress and when will it convene?

A. The new congress will be the 75th and will be convened at noon on January 5.

Q. What are the party splits in each house?

A. In the senate there are 75 Democrats, 17 Republicans, 1 Independent, 1 Progressive and 2 Farmer-Laborites. In the house there are 334 Democrats, 89 Republicans, 7 Progressives and 5 Farmer-Laborites.

Q. What kind of support is President Roosevelt likely to have in congress?

A. Overwhelming, apparently. Re-election necessities of 1938 and the effect of increased Roosevelt prestige indicate any development of intra-party opposition to administration legislative policies probably will be slow.

Congress' support of President assured

Q. What cabinet members seem likely to remain?

A. While Mr. Roosevelt has given no indications, it is generally regarded that Cordell Hull, secretary of state; Henry Morgenthau, Jr., secretary of the treasury; and Henry A. Wallace, secretary of agriculture, are certain to remain.

Q. Has business given any indication of what its attitude will be towards a second Roosevelt administration?

A. By inference only. Its spokesmen's comment on the Roosevelt re-election suggested acceptance of the New Deal as a fact for the next few years and a business policy of seeking to co-operate with Washington.

Q. Is there any reason to believe the supreme court's attitude towards New Deal measures will be influenced by President Roosevelt's re-election?

A. No.

Q. Has President Roosevelt indicated that he will make an immediate effort to balance the budget?

A. At Hyde Park after the election, the President declared that he was "going back to Washington to try and balance the budget, thereby carrying out the first of the campaign pledges."

Q. What is likely to be done about Passamaquoddy and the Florida ship canal?

A. Representatives of Maine and Florida in congress are expected to press for the reopening of these projects with no likelihood that bills to that end would be vetoed by the President.

Long Prairie Woman Was Buried Tuesday

KERENS, Nov. 19.—(Spl.)—Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 2 p. m. at Long Prairie, for Mrs. Lula Howell, 52, who died at her home Monday afternoon. Rev. C. E. Wilkins, pastor of the First Methodist church of Kerens officiated, with funeral arrangements in charge of Stockton's Funeral Home. Mrs. Howell is survived by her husband, Kit Howell, and nine children.

Q. What has been said about revival of the NRA or a 30-hour week movement?

A. In reply to Governor Landon during the campaign, President Roosevelt declared: "Of course, we will continue to seek to improve working conditions for the workers of America, to reduce hours overlong, to increase wages, to end all starvation, to end the labor of children, to wipe out sweatshops. Of course, we will continue every effort to end monopoly in business, to support collective bargaining, to stop unfair competition, to abolish unfavorable trade practices. For all these we have only just begun to fight."

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, says an immediate drive will be launched for White House support of an NRA alternative—the Black-Connery 30-hour week bill and the O'Mahoney licensing measure for industry.

Q. Is the civil service likely to be expanded?

A. Yes. President Roosevelt recommitted himself on that point in the campaign and will be less hampered by patronage demands in the new congress and the necessity of creating additional emergency agencies outside the civil service that marked his first term. Some emergency agencies already have been reduced.

Reduction in emergency agencies expected

Q. Is there any reason to believe that President Roosevelt will seek constitutional amendments?

A. The 1936 Democratic platform, to which President Roosevelt has said "I heartily subscribe," declares that if national problems cannot be solved by legislation "within the Constitution" such clarifying amendments as may be found necessary will be sought.

Q. Is any change in supreme court membership likely in the near future?

A. Deaths or retirements may change the complexion of the court. Six justices are past the retirement age, including four of the five members described as conservatives.

Q. Is there any reason to anticipate inflation on the basis of President Roosevelt's statements?

A. No. The President early in his administration was given authority by congress to expand the currency but has never used it. The strategy behind the move was to remove the threat of inflationists in congress.

Q. Has President Roosevelt indicated that there will be any less experimentation in this administration?

A. No. In his last major campaign address he said he had "only just begun to fight" for the objectives aimed at by his first administration.

Q. Is there any reason to believe President Roosevelt may try for a third term?

A. No. If he has any such thoughts in his own mind he has kept them carefully concealed thus far.

Q. What tax revision is likely?

A. Revision of the 1936 revenue act imposes on undistributed corporation net profits. Rising tax yields due to business recovery and complaint that the tax hampers recovery combine to indicate such a revision.

Q. Will federal relief be continued in its present form?

A. Yes, at least until the effects of rising recovery on unemployment can be measured. The relief administration may, however, be merged under a consolidation program.

BLOOMING GROVE IS FIRST COMMUNITY IN RED CROSS ROLL CALL

WEST NAVARRO COUNTY CITY REACHES QUOTA AND MORE IN QUICK DRIVE

Ted B. Ferguson, Navarero county 1937 Roll Call chairman for the American Red Cross, announced Monday afternoon that Blooming Grove is the first place in the county to make its report on its membership drive, not only reaching its quota, one of the largest in the county, but exceeding it at present by $400 and indicating that other members may be secured before the closing date of the enrollment period, Thanksgiving.

The roll call supplies were delivered to Mayor R. S. High of Blooming Grove Friday by Mrs. R. E. Mitchell, executive secretary of the local chapter, and Miss Margaret Roderick and the drive, which Mrs. Mitchell points out is the most successful one since the year following the Frost storm, was started immediately with the gratifying results mentioned.

Mrs. Mitchell and Miss Roderick representing Mr. Ferguson, were in the Navarero County trade area of Streetman Monday afternoon lining up workers for the campaign. Mrs. Wayne Milligan agreed to act as chairman of the soliciting committee and at Winkler, Emmett Ferguson and C. M. Wood, the latter principal of the school, were named at the suggestion of John K. Hawthorne, vice member of the county Red Cross board representing the Birdston-Winkler communities, whose many friends will regret to learn is confined to his bed with serious illness at this time. Other communities and towns are scheduled to be visited right away and the county-wide drive will be in full swing by the end of the week.

As nourishment is improved, strength is built up, certain functional pains go away and women praise Cardui for helping them back to good health. "Mrs. C. E. Ratliff, of Hinton, W. Va., writes: 'After the birth of my last baby, I did not seem to get my strength back. I took Cardui again and was soon sound and well. I have given it to my daughters and recommend it to other ladies. Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.'

PEDICURE EQUIPMENT.

PRETTY FEET

If you want really good-looking feet, get yourself the best equipment. Miss Forbes describes today. With it you can keep your feet comfortable.

Make yourself up a pretty box containing all the things you need for treating the feet and making them comfortable and beautiful. I will list the equipment for you. You'll find it does not cost very much. You want a small, sharp, strong pointed file to clean under the nails. You'll want a safety razor to shave a way callous. You want a small bottle of oil or jar of cream to use around the cuticle of the toenails. You want a bottle of nail enamel to paint them any bright color you fancy. You want a pair of strong short scissors to cut the nails and curved cuticle scissors to trim the cuticle. You want a small wad of lamb's wool to roll around the small toes to save the shoes from rubbing them and to protect the skin after you've shaved off a corn.

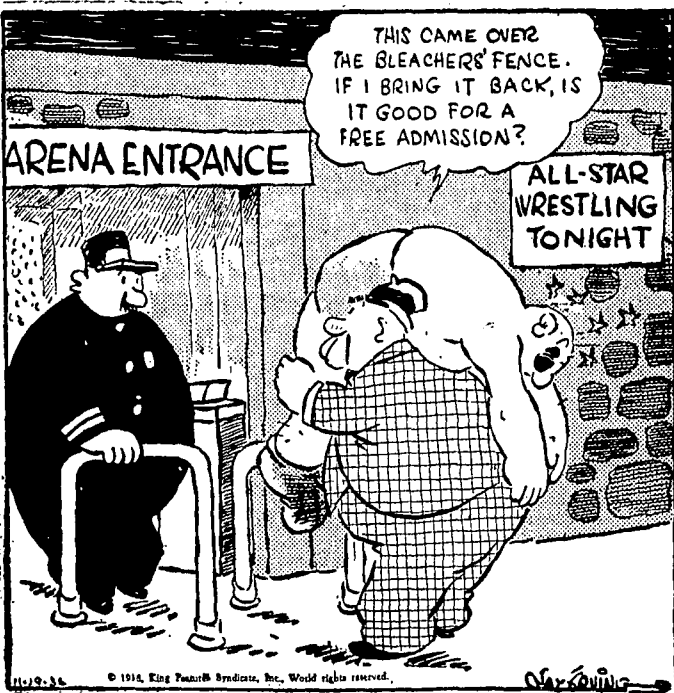

This may sound like a great deal, but as a matter of fact a lot of it can be borrowed from your manicure outfit. Cuticle scissors and nail file and colored nail varnish are all used on your hands. The strong scissors for cutting can come from your sewing box. The other equipment is very cheap in the cut-rate drug stores. Many of these make a specialty of selling manicure outfits and include in them a small bottle of collodion—very good to take the soreness out of an aching toe.

You know, of course, that you begin any foot treatment by prolonged soaking of the feet in hot, soapy water. This softens the cuticle, and if you want to get a corn away clean you keep on soaking the skin, shaving off the hard skin layer by layer as the hot water softens it. If you keep this up you will eventually have the skin down to that tiny hard kernel which presses on a nerve centre and causes you such pain. This can be lifted out.

L. H. De R.—The sulphur in the hair tonic will not affect the natural color of the hair. The only thing it might be advisable to omit from the formula would be when the hair is a bluish white, but even in such a case bluing in the rinse would counteract any tendency that the sulphur might have toward giving a yellowish tint. In the old-time mixture of sage and sulphur to tint grey hair, the sage did much more toward darkening the stray white hairs than the sulphur did. Mrs. T. B.—Since you are always renewing your hair from the roots, you can count on the fresh growth coming along in the healthy state that was usual with it previous to the trouble. The peroxide did not hurt your hair, but the dye following it must have broken down the vitality in it. This old hair now is practically lifeless, badly dried out and dead, as far as its particular length may be considered, but the hair coming along constantly from the roots should be vital and in as good condition as formerly. You might help it some, too, by keeping the blood circulating in the scalp. Do this by a daily massage, and if you wish a tonic I shall be glad to forward a formula for one. In that case, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for the mailing. If you cut off all this devitalized hair, you would get better results, or get the results you wish faster, as all the strength then would be concentrated in the new growth.

TUGWELL POLICIES WILL BE CONTINUED IS GENERAL BELIEF

FARM TENANCY AND OTHER PROGRAMS OF BRAIN TRUST- ER TO BE RETAINED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Policies of Rexford G. Tugwell's will go marching on, it was indicated today, even though the handsome "brain trust" will not be here to "administer" them.

For instance, there is the farm tenancy program, which already has been started by Tugwell and which is bound up with theories of "paternalistic" government so roundly denounced by anti-new dealers.

Dr. Will W. Alexander, Tugwell assistant slated to fill his chief's shoes as resettlement administrator, has come out for a plan which is a virtual continuation of the Tugwell undertaking.

Dr. Alexander, former Methodist minister who is down in the Southern sharecropper belt looking over the situation first hand, said last night the program should be a long range one, in which farmers would be closely supervised as the government helps them to rise from the status of farm tenants to land owners.

Tugwell's agency already has acquired 74,000 acres of farm land in Southern states, with the idea of permitting tenants to buy it over a long period and under close supervision.

Bodies of Twin Babies Found At Lake Spillway

DENTON, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Spillway workers at the Lake Dallas Dam found the bodies of twin babies, one-day-old, wrapped in a Dallas newspaper, apparently dead before they were thrown into the lake late last night or early today.

Justice Z. B. Lewis said his inquest verdict would be murder by persons unknown.

Workers under Rowland Stewart, dam keeper, sighted a burly, wrapped bundle from the bridge crossing the spillway. The infant boy and girl were inside.

M. L. Hutcheson, county health officer, said the babies had not drowned because their lungs held no water. He could not immediately name cause of death. He said the babies had lived for about 24 hours.

Hemostat Taken From Abdomen Of Woman In Tulsa

TULSA, Okla., Nov. 19.—(AP)—A six-inch hemostat, scissors-like surgical instrument used to pinch off severed veins to prevent hemorrhage, was removed today from a woman's abdomen where Dr. John Holladay said it had been left in an operation four years ago.

Dr. Halladay, osteopathic surgeon who performed the operation and his assistant, Dr. J. W. Orman, said the 55-minute operation on Mrs. A. E. Banks was a success and predicted an uneventful recovery.

The instrument was located by X-ray.

"After 55 minutes," said Dr. Orman, "the imbedded instrument was removed from the tissues which had grown around it. It was still shiny as it was four years ago but one of the rings of the handle had been partly dissolved by digestive juices. Two pieces had broken off the rest of the ring but they were recovered also."

Gun Used in Slaying Erna Merchant Has Been Identified

SAN ANGELO, Nov. 19.—(AP)—The department of public safety at Austin has identified the gun which brought about the death of N. J. Johnson, Erna, Menard county, merchant. Officers found the gun after the man was found wounded several weeks ago. The department compared bullets found at the scene to those used in this gun.

Two men, one said to have served time in the penitentiary, are in an unnamed Texas jail now on felony charges, and are to be questioned this week in connection with Johnson's death.

Johnson was slain by six shots fired from outside his sleeping quarters.
